

ADIRONDACK JOURNAL OF ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Seeking Common Ground Among a Multitude of Viewpoints

Northern Forest Wealth Index

MICHAEL WILSON

Black Fly Control, the Adirondack Experience

MARY S. RUTLEY

Adirondack Rustic Furniture Industry

JACK ELLIOTT

Did Reclamation Pollute Black Pond?

J. CURT STAGER

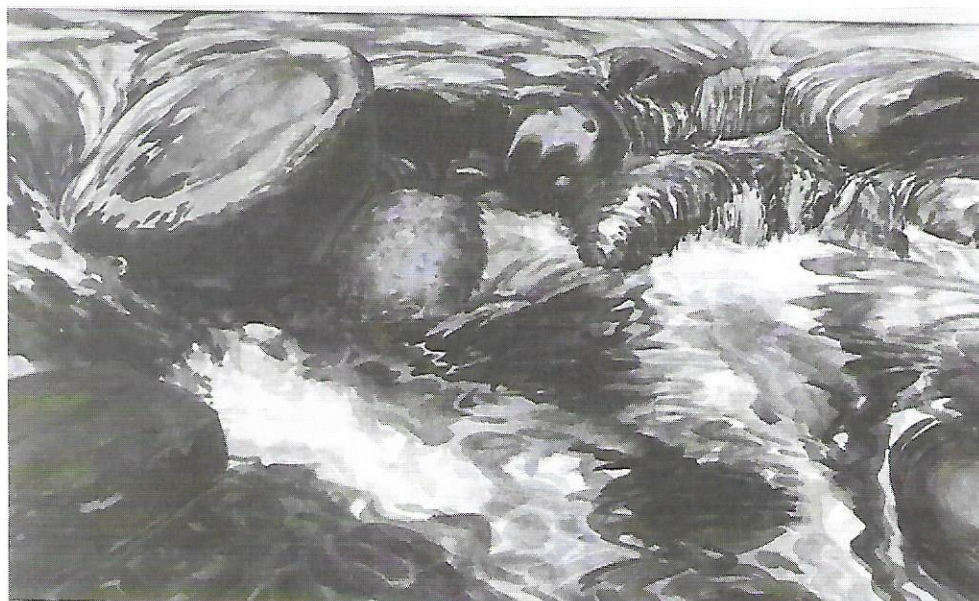

Local Governments and Watershed Management

TIMOTHY D. SCHAEFFER

AJES is expanding its regional focus

AJES

VOL. 8 NO. 1 • SPRING 2001

Tim Fortune

Contents

PREROGATIVE

A Question of Size Gary Chilson 3

PERSPECTIVE

Northern Forest Wealth Index:
Exploring a Deeper Meaning of Wealth Michael Wilson 5

FEATURE

Black Fly Control, the Adirondack Experience Mary S. Rutley 9

ANALYSIS

Adirondack Rustic Furniture Industry: Survey and Prospect Jack Elliott 15
Did Reclamation Pollute Black Pond? J. Curt Stager 22

COMMENTARY

Local Governments and Watershed Management:
Lessons for the Adirondacks Timothy D. Schaeffer 28

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Adirondack Journal of Environmental Studies is expanding its regional focus 36